

Manual Health

To read or print PDF documents, you will need the Adobe Acrobat Reader, version 5.0 or later, on your computer. This is available free from Adobe's website.

You must download the following health form(s) and read the instructions

Based upon the information you have provided to this Department, you are required to undergo the following examinations.

Form(s)

- You will be required to undergo a chest x-ray as part of this application.
Please click  for a copy of form 160EH
- You will be required to undergo a medical as part of this application.
- You will be required to undergo a HIV blood test as part of this application.
Please click  for a copy of form 26EH

Please note:

If your health circumstances change after you have completed the above tests, you are required to immediately notify the nearest Australian Government office overseas.

If pertinent information becomes known to this Department during health assessment or application processing, you may be required to undergo further examinations.

Instructions

Before your visa application can be decided you must undertake both an X-ray and a medical examination (and blood tests, if necessary).

What you need to do

1. Download forms 160EH and 26EH by clicking the form icons above.
2. Print both forms (3 pages for form 160EH and 8 pages for form 26EH).
3. Contact your nearest Medical Clinic (The following link details the complete list of the Department's registered Radiological and Medical Clinics) for an appointment and to tell you which Radiological Clinic to see.
4. Make an appointment with the Radiological Clinic.
5. Personally complete part A of form 160EH and part A of form 26EH.
6. Attend your appointment with the Radiological Clinic, who will take an X-ray. Be sure to take form 160EH and your passport with you to this appointment.
7. Complete part B of form 160EH in the presence of the Radiologist. The Radiologist will then forward the X-ray and completed form 160EH to your nominated Medical Clinic.
8. Attend your appointment with the Medical Clinic, who will complete a physical examination (and blood tests, if necessary) and form 26EH. Be sure to take form 26EH and your passport with you to this appointment.
9. Complete part B of form 26EH in the presence of the Medical Practitioner.

The Doctor will then forward the completed form/s to this Department.

Do not accept the X-ray or form 160EH back from the Radiological Clinic or form 26EH back from the Medical Clinic as this may invalidate your application.

 Close

Home :: Disclaimer :: Privacy :: Copyright